There is a season for everything, a time for every occupation under heaven

A time to give birth

A time to die

A time to plant

A time for uprooting what has been planted.

A time for healing

A time for building

A time for tears,

A time for laughter,

A time for mourning,

A time for dancing,

A time for embracing,

A time for searching,

A time for loving

A time for peace

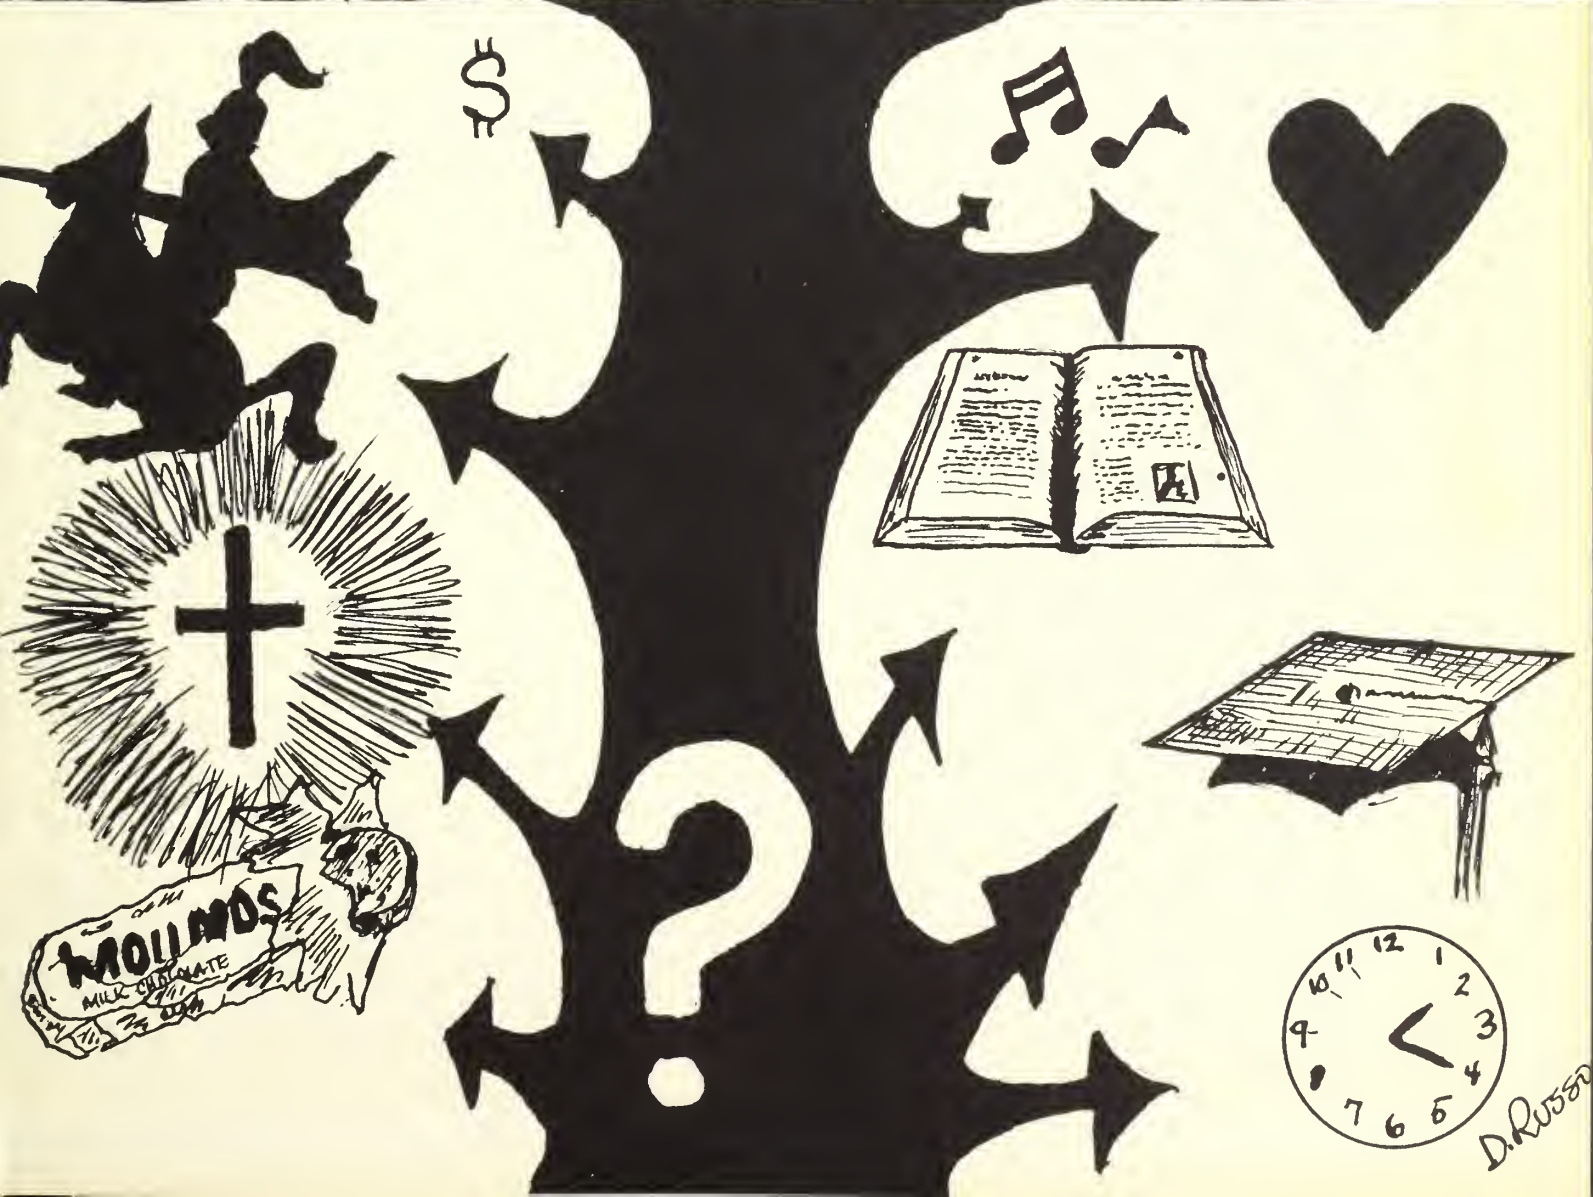

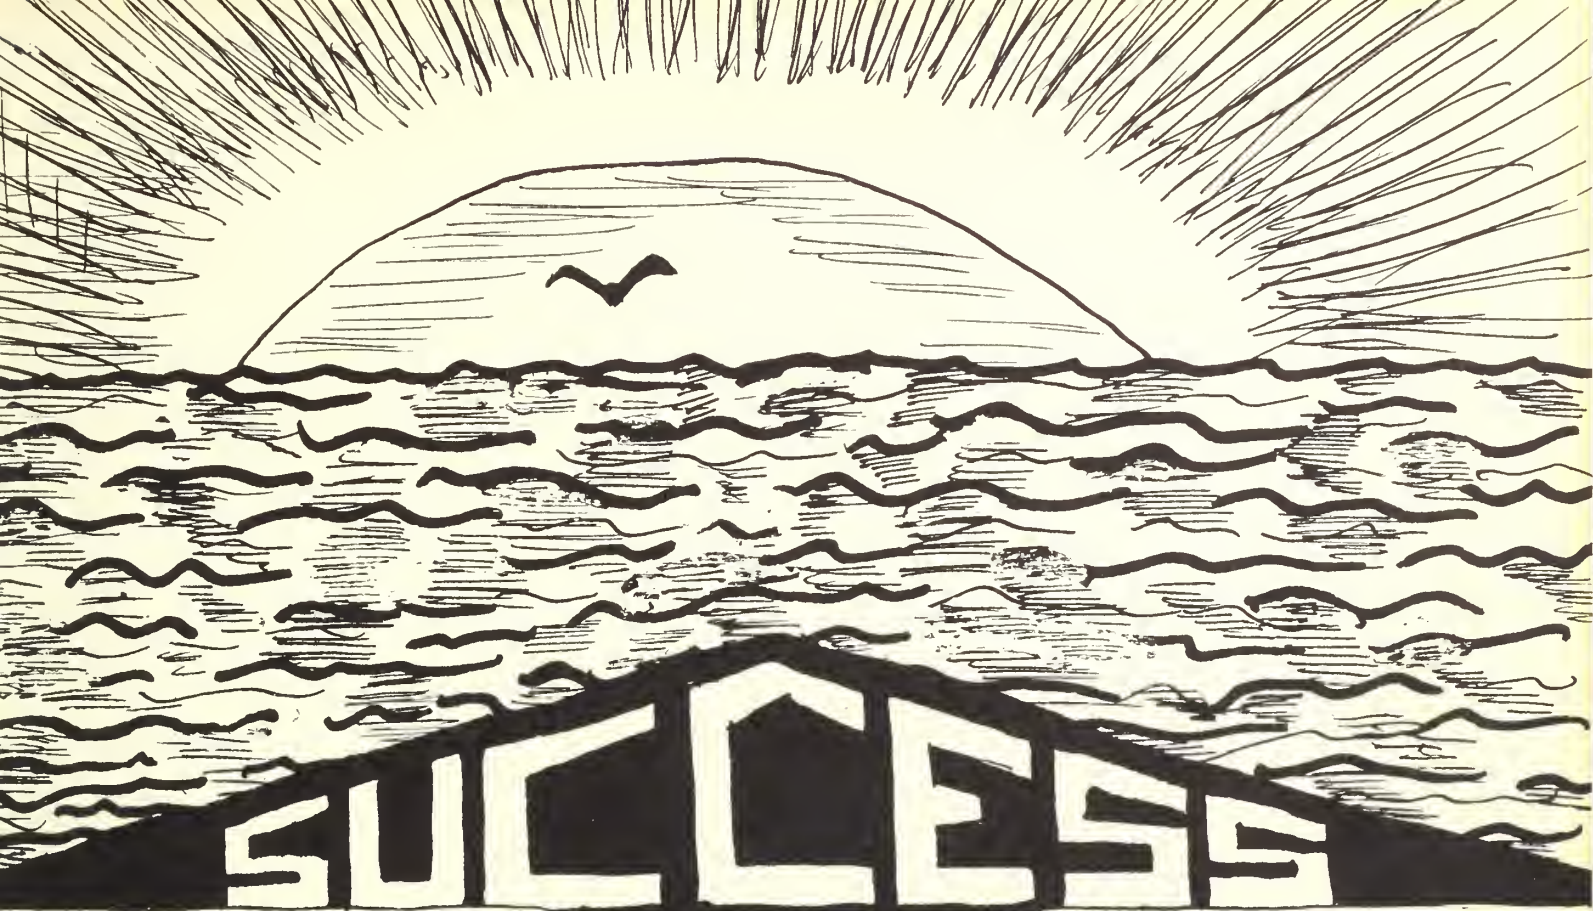

What does a man gain for the efforts that he makes?

I contemplate the task that God gives us to labor at.

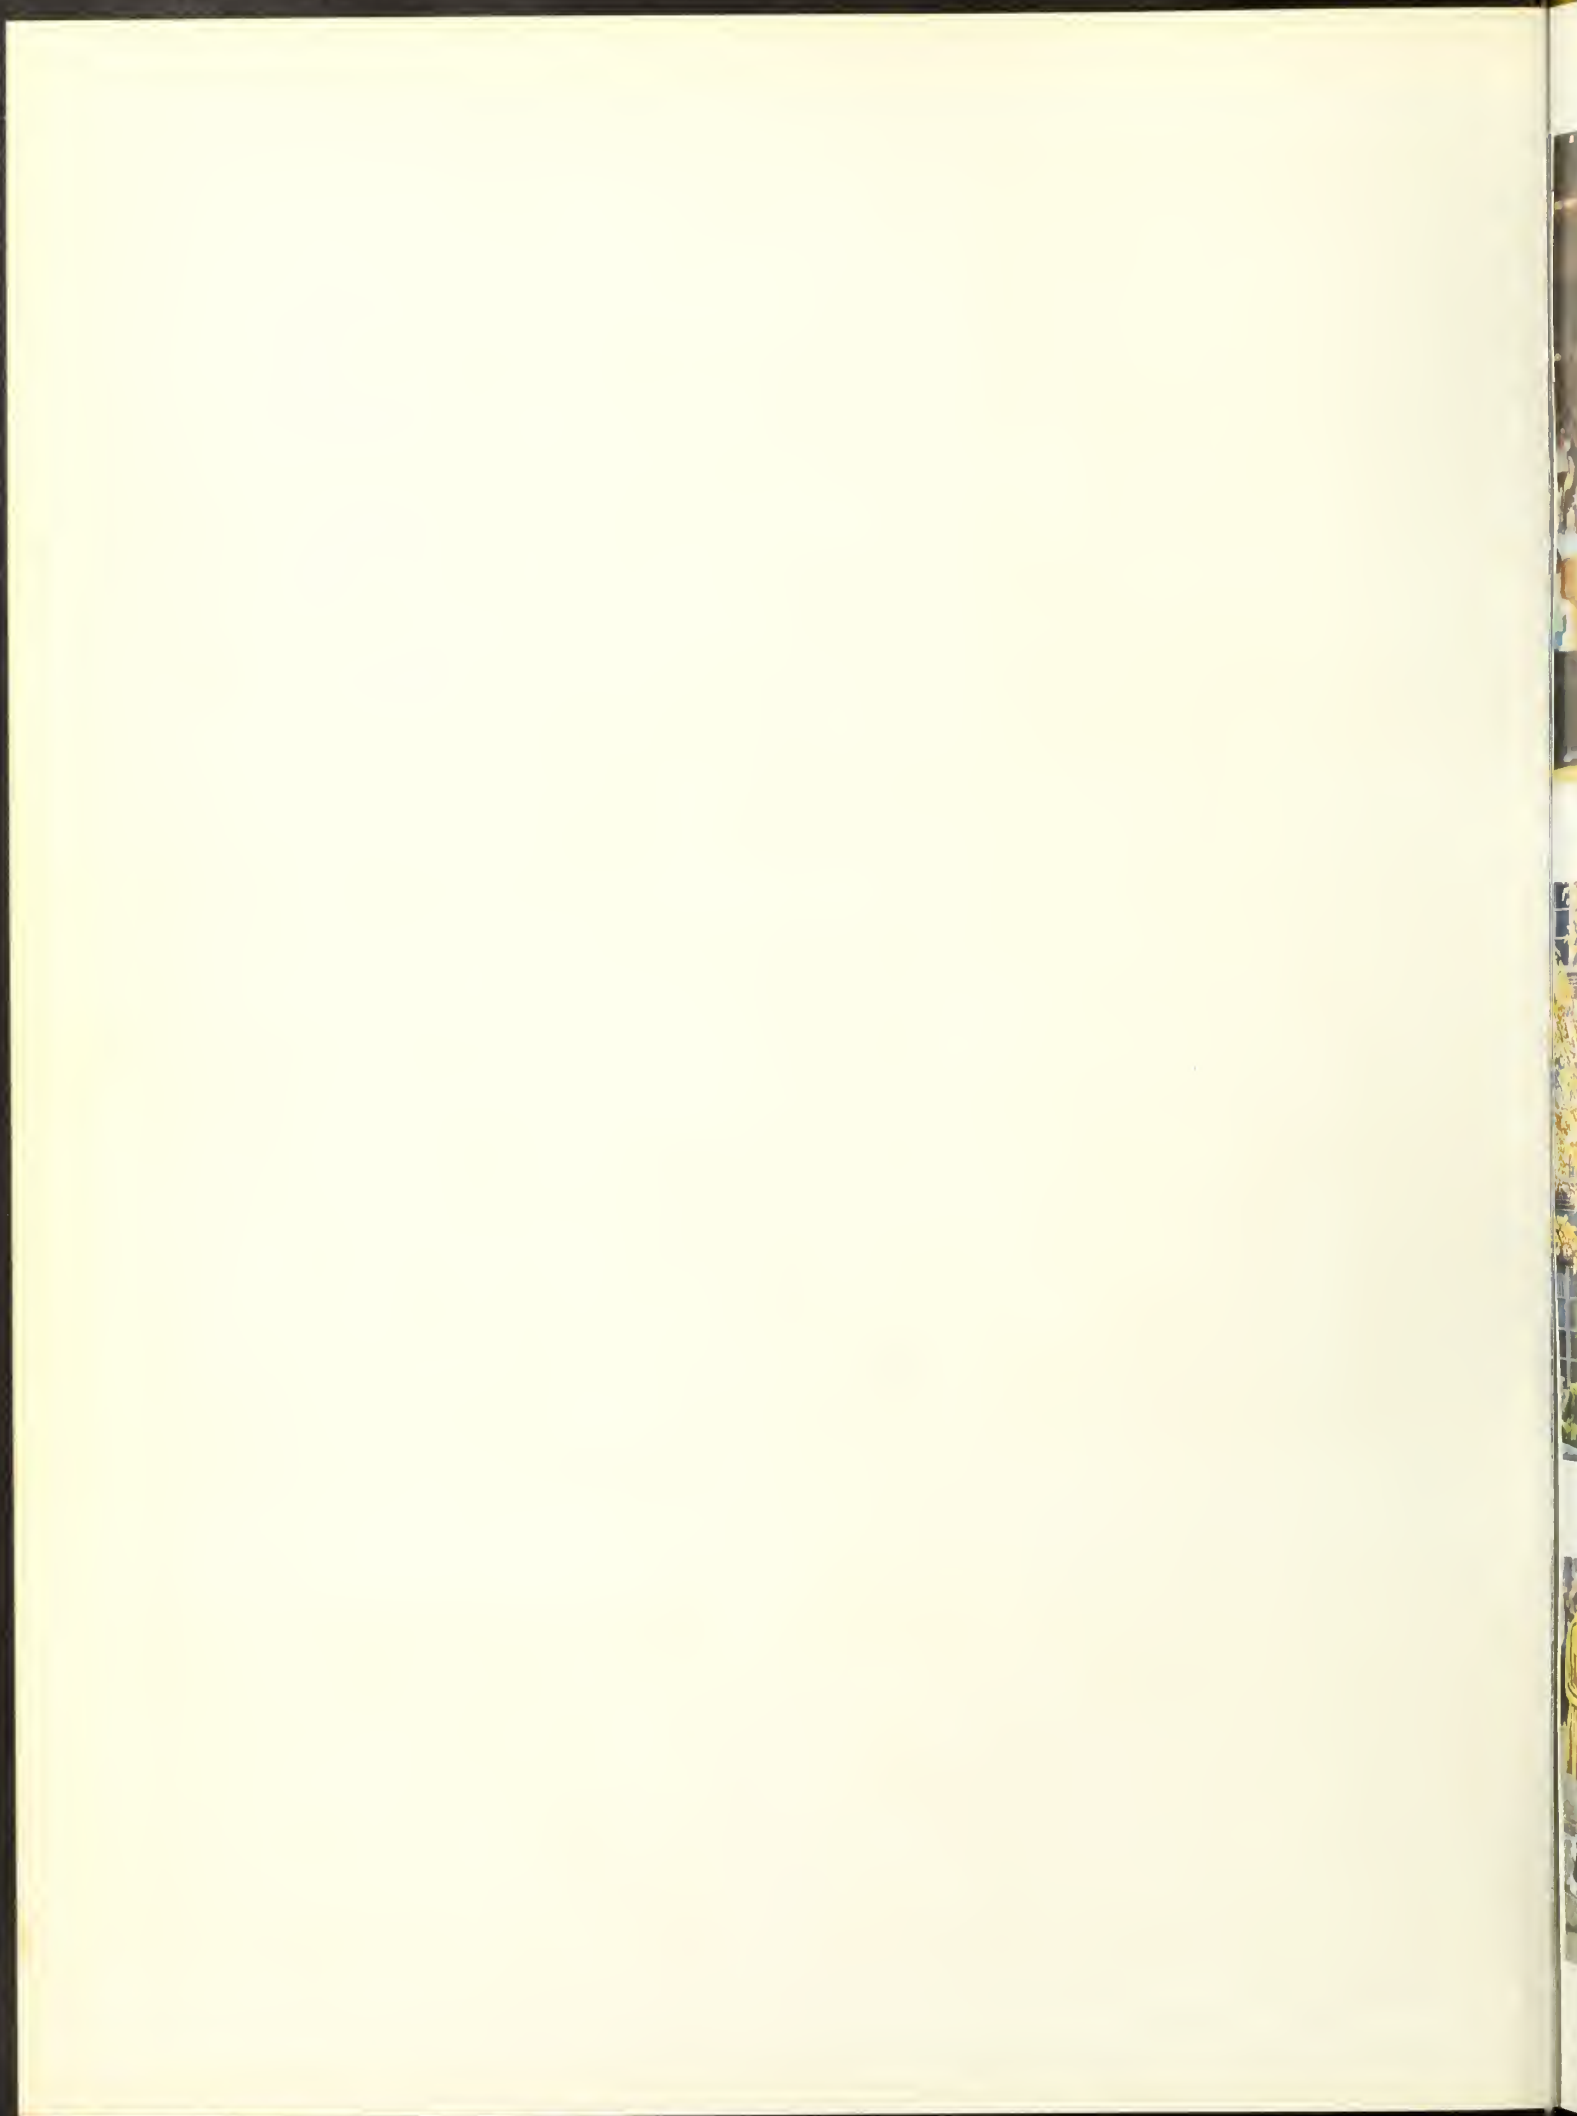

All that we do is suited for its time.

Although we are permitted to consider time in its wholeness, we cannot comprehend the work of God from beginning to end.

ECCLESIASTES 3:1-11

PROLOGUE

People arrive at Fenwick every morning by many different means: some who live close by walk; others from Peabody and neighboring towns ride the bus; those students who live in close proximity to one another are picked up by their carpool. Many upperclassmen enjoy the freedom of driving their own cars. Hundreds of students and faculty from all over the northshore to assemble at a single nucleus in time for the 8:10 bell. . . . And then . . . it rings. . . . The pledge of Allegiance, an inspirational prayer, a deluge of announcements, and so begins another day.

If Barbara Walters were to come up to someone from Fenwick and say "Tell me something about your school," perhaps the person would respond with a pause of silence. Indeed Bishop Fenwick is no "one" thing. Every member can find something uniquely special that they feel sufficiently defines our school. Maybe it is one good memory of an event that almost forced time to stand still and brought the meaning of life into focus. A short 60 seconds when something wonderful happened at Fenwick, a moment that will never be forgotten.

Another student might answer that sitting down in the "cafe" and listening to the stereo with a group of friends is Fenwick. Perhaps for someone else quietly (?) studying in the library or plowing through a poem in English class. Still another might say it is catching a pass on the football field or running the four mile block.

After interviewing several members of the Fenwick community, Ms. Walters would see that though the concept of Fenwick is different for many, overall it is the same. . . . People! Our school is a place where we are growing, sharing and giving while in search of that elusive thing called education.

By 2:20 as the world of Fenwick dissapates into various directions, the people who are leaving are changed. We are different because of the new knowledge we have gained either within or outside of the classroom.

The Lance Bishop Fenwick High School 1981

Have you ever grown so accustomed to something
That you never really appreciated it,
Until one day you turned around and it was gone . . .
. . . slipped away in a fleeting moment;
as you tried to grasp those memories and friendships
you realized just how much they meant to you?

FACULTY & ADMINISTRATION

Here they are . . . the new faces along with the familiar ones. This year Fenwick experienced a new twist. There were many new teachers roaming the corridors. We feel that the Fenwick community is all the better because of the great adjustment made by the new faculty members to the Crusader life. And to the veterans of the teaching staff we would like to say thanks for helping us to grow to mature responsible Christian adults. To all of you we express our sincere gratitude and appreciation for lending a helping hand to us on our way through Fenwick, thanks for the memories.

Senior Homeroom Teachers

These eight teachers featured here are special to the class of 1981; they're our homeroom teachers. These dedicated educators stand behind us through all of our undertakings, whether it be a dance, or a mountain climbing trip. They're friends we can talk to about academics, social life, or our plans for the future. Some of these teachers have stood by us since we were silly freshmen and watched us mature into sensible seniors. To all of you, we say a special thanks. Student Council & Publications

Student Council — two words which, when put together mean a lot less to most people than perhaps they should. The reason? The Student Council is a behind the scenes group of kids working to plan and organize activities for their classmates — stepping out only to be elected and installed.

The accomplishments of the Student Council include the installation of the stereo in the cafeteria and the annual Christmas Cotillion; which proved to be twice as successful as in previous years. We also sponsored two fun filled dances, the Valentine Carnation Day, the Canned Food Drive and Mass, and many other Fenwick traditions which might have been otherwise overlooked in such an active school.

The Student Council will perhaps never be quite as popular or given quite as much support as the sports programs at Bishop Fenwick, the academic curriculum or the play. And, for those kids who do become involved in the acceptance of leadership, there is almost insured an amount of personal frustration, deep disappointment, and at times alienation from classmates and teachers. All this can lead to the development of independence and self-reliance which makes the experience worthwhile.

We hope that through our perseverance and dedication, interest in the School Government will continue and prove, next year, to be a major factor in the student life at Fenwick.

Lancelette

This year a new school newspaper was introduced to the Bishop Fenwick community, the Lancelette. Compiled by students with the aid of Ms. St. Pierre, and Mr. Henaghan, the Lancelette has become a medium for the students, allowing them to speak out on school issues, express themselves creatively, and learn about each other. The paper contains a variety of departments such as editorials, news stories, a living section, and sports reports. In keeping with the Crusader theme, of Fenwick, these departments were entitled; The Round Table, Knightly News, Squires Scandal and Troubadour Tales. The Lancelette was widely received by members of both the student body and faculty. The combination of information and entertainment offered in the paper provided something for everyone. It is the hope of the 1981 staff of the Lancelette that the paper continues to be a vital part of Fenwick, and that the future staffers and readers will derive as much knowledge and pleasure from the Lancelettes that this years staff has during the past year.

Fenwick are the best

Fenwick girls win team title

BOSTON — The remarkable season for the Bishop Fenwick High School girls cross country team ended on the brightest of notes Saturday.

The Crusaders captured the state cross country championships at Franklin Park in Boston as they grabbed everything in sight this year.

Fenwick won the nine points better than any other team. Fenwick North. Masconomet Regional finished in tenth place.

"It was probably the biggest moment of my coaching career," commented an elated Fenwick coach Carl DiMaiti. "No wait a minute. Not maybe definitely."

Again, it was the quality depth that paid off in the end as Fenwick had five runners in the top 45.

"I knew we had the talent to do it," assessed DiMaiti. "It was just the question of whether we could come up with the performance to do it. It turned out to be our best meet of the year."

"Every girl ran her best time on the course. It was a perfect day for running. There was tremendous competition, the ultimate in cross country. I'm sure if you asked any of the other coaches, they would tell you the same."

PEABODY — The Bishop Fenwick High School girls basketball team came back from last week's 49-24 drubbing by Archbishop Williams to stop Monsignor Ryan, 52-43, yesterday.

"We had a pretty bad game last week," Fenwick coach Jim Palm said. "But we came back and we executed the running game very well."

Fenwick stretching softball win team title

PEABODY — Forty-eight straight. That's the number of consecutive wins recorded by the Bishop Fenwick High School softball team in Catholic League play. Fenwick coach Jim McHugh is hoping the numbers keep growing this season, and the Crusaders are off to a good start, having won their first two games this season.

"I'm kind of disappointed that we lost," said Georgetown coach Jim Collamore. "But Fenwick came ready to play football. Their screen passes killed us, and they executed the running game very well."

"That's the best thing from the coaches point of view," said DiMaiti, "having those girls coming back next year. It was a story-book season. It's kind of sad to see it end."

Fenwick boy runners qualify

FENWICK FOOTNOTES — Radcliffe had 73 yards in 16 attempts. Nally 50 in 18.

Fenwick's finest hour since Stan Bondevitch became coach five years ago, the Crusaders set aside previously undefeated Georgetown, 22-0 on Saturday.

Fenwick was sharper then the verbal razor, knocking Georgetown's record to 7-1 while making their own slate 4-3. The win was also the 100th recorded for Fenwick since they began a football program in 1963.

Eric Wazlewski will tackle, Shamus Ryan middle guard, Jim Nally and Martin the line-backers.

I'm proud of my kids. They didn't give up."

FENWICK FOOTBALL

Playing football at Bishop Fenwick is many things, It is sweating to death under hot August suns and freezing in mid-November winds. It is hours upon hours of gruelling practice sessions in preparation for weekly games. Most of all, however, it is togetherness and teamwork.

On long bus rides to Framingham and in our own locker room we were the Fenwick football team. For forty minutes each week we functioned as a single unit, a unit that could not be stopped unless we stopped ourselves. We won; we lost. We played; we cheered from the sidelines. We did it together as a team. We were a unit that controlled its own destiny. When we played up to our potential, we were unbeatable.

In the years to come our memories will be good ones. We will not remember the bumps, the bruises, or the penalties. We will remember the victories, the victory parties, the loyal fans, and the lively cheerleaders. Looking back on our high school years we will come to realize that the important part of athletics is not to have won but to have participated.

THANKSGIVING GAME

Cross Country

This year's girls cross country team was the kind most coaches only dream about. They possessed every asset necessary to mold a successful team, and then that something extra which differentiates the exceptional squads from the good ones. Their combined talents increased their potential to win. The depth for consistency (one of the most important factors for a team to have), along with their desire to win and the persistence to make this a reality, was inherent in the entire team. Every member of this year's girls' cross country team gave more than what was asked of her . . . and it clearly paid off!

There was not one invitational meet in which the girls competed that they did not win. Some of these meets attracted high caliber teams from six to eight different states. Among the titles captured by this year's team were: Our Lady of Providence, New England Catholics, Northern Area Team Championship, and the Knights of Columbus Holyoke Invitational Championship. These were the additional awards to their credit, but they were only a sign of the future.

By the end of this year's cross country season, the girls' team accomplished what no other team in Fenwick history had yet to do. After winning the Division III Eastern Massachusetts Championship, they captured the 1980 All-State Cross Country Championship.

Terence Joyce Jr. '81

From the beginning the boys 1980-1981 Cross Country season looked promising. This turned out to be true with the boys making a very good start which they built on through the entire season. Two of the key victories which contributed to the team's outstanding record were the crushing wins over Lynnfield and North Reading. Because of this double win, Fenwick won the league meet, a first in Catholic Central league Cross Country History. The boys went on to finish third in the Massachusetts State Divisional Cross Country meet at Franklin. All of this could not have been possible without the outstanding coaching of Carl Dimaitti, Thomas Hart, and Steve Czarnecki.

Although the boys were the last to qualify in the smallest division in the Commonwealth, Fenwick with the smallest boys enrollment in the state finished 14th. This was the highest standing of any boys team on the North Shore and the best finish for a Fenwick Boys Cross Country team ever.

Fenwick Fenwick Rah Rah Rah Field Hockey

The 1980-81 Girls' Varsity Field Hockey Team under the leadership of Miss Nancy Takis was one whose skill, talent, spirit, and perseverance will long be remembered. The team got off to an early start this season by attending Merestead Hockey and LaCrosse Camp in late August where they came in contact with several expert coaches and players who taught them some finer points of the game. After a week in Maine the girls were ready to return to Peabody and practice their newly learned maneuvers on their home field behind Bishop Fenwick High School.

The many hours of practice began to pay off as the team opened their season with a 5-0 victory over arch-rival Peabody High School. The weeks passed and Bishop Fenwick's record remained unblemished with goal after goal leading to victory after victory.

Following their productive season the team found itself in the State tournament for the second consecutive year. Although they did not make it all the way to the top, the team has an unprecedented season and left their mark on the Field Hockey scoreboard of the North Shore.

HOCKEY ACTION

The 1980-81 Fenwick Hockey team was composed of an abundance of underclassmen but still managed to post a winning record. The team was carried by returning veterans of last years Boston Garden Finalist Team, including seniors Dennis Berube, Mike Lavoie, George Middleton, and Jim Quinlan. The team skated under the leadership of Coach Mr. Tierney and captains John Hanlon and Rick Teel.

The season ended with a winning record of 10-7-1, in which the Crusaders icemen hung tough all season long for a tournament berth but ran into the strong opposition of Marian and Arlington Catholic. Highlights of the season were Coach Tierney's 50th win, and John Hanlon's 200th career point, an accomplishment seldom if ever seen in high school hockey. The 1980-81 team showed great unity and much hard work. The talents of underclassmen were utilized and developed which will aid Fenwick Hockey in the 1981-82 season providing experienced players. The character, disposition and dedication of this years skaters is something for all, especially the players to be proud of.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The 1980-81 girls basketball team enjoyed a very successful season under second year coach Jim Palin. The team won the Catholic League title with a 10-2 league record and finished the season with a 13-8 record overall. In addition to league games, the girls schedule included such tough competitors as Peabody, Ipswich, Lynn Classical, and Newburyport. After losing four starters from last year's Division 2 North Finalist Team, this year's addition continued to make the Crusaders a formidable basketball power on the North Shore. The team was made up of seven seniors; Jane LeBlanc, Maryellen O'Neill, Kathleen McNiff, Julie McGivern, Anne McShane, Maura Lynch and Jeanne Fraser. The girls also had many talented underclassmen who will return next year. The Junior Varsity under Kim O'Connell and the Freshmen coached by Mark Hillner also had very successful seasons. These players will lead to the future success of Bishop Fenwick Girl's Basketball.

Maura Lynch

A VICTORIOUS WINTER TRACK SEASON

History was made in the Bishop Fenwick record books as the 1980-1981 boys winter track team became undefeated in the Commonwealth Conference. Every year the league battles it out, with the Crusaders always finishing on the top. However, this season's 7-0 record was unprecedented. Coach Carl Dimaiti knew this was a championship team due to such early indicators as hard work, depth, and super ability. The team was sparked by the combination of enthusiasm, leadership, and much support from the underclassmen. From this early experience and training, the underclassmen will grow and maintain the Fenwick track tradition of victory.

When people refer to the sport of Winter Track, they usually denote it as being dull, boring or quite demanding. It is true that winter track can at times demand a lot of time and energy, but that is true in any sport where competition is the key element. As far as dull and boring, that statement is quite false. Winter track can be very interesting and exciting. Coming after our state championship Cross Country Team this fall, winter track may seem to have been a little let down. However, this year the girls entered the Duel Country League on a positive note and they also competed in various state affiliated meets. It was a fun season for the team members and next year Fenwick will have the experience and also, most of the girls returning which it will need in order to become League Champions.

Softball

Remains Undefeated

The 1981 softball team, coached by Mr. McHugh, Mr. Henry, and Mr. Kawczynski, has again been characterized by a feeling of spirit and togetherness this season. Despite losing five talented seniors from the 1980 season, the team has compensated with much hard work and effort. Through such efforts, the team has been able to accomplish the first undefeated regular season in the schools history.

Among the highlights of the season was the defeat of rival Peabody High on two occasions. This was a great achievement for the players and coaches after losing twice to Peabody in the 1980 season.

However, more important, was the posting of the 50th consecutive win in the Catholic Central League. This year marked the fifth consecutive undefeated season in the C.C.L. Looking forward to both the Catholic and State Tournaments, the team appears strong both offensively and defensively. With this in mind, the players hope to reach their potential and continue their winning season throughout the state tournament. Yet, whatever the results bring, it has been an enjoyable season in that all the members have appreciated each others efforts and have gotten along well.

GOLF

The Golf team, headed by Coach Bob Tierney, had a rough journey this spring, ending the season with a 4-8 record. The team had 4-6 underclassmen in starting roles including a few freshmen. Although lacking talent as a whole, a few individuals seemed to pull through once or twice during the season. These players were co-capt. Mike Topel, Dennis Berube, and Joanne Diplacido (whose opponent chatted with his bull from time to time.) Also, Carlton Campbell, a freshman showed signs of strong development in the future of the team by playing a tough #2 position. Playing a difficult role at the #1 slot was co-capt. Steve Ciampa. Although going winless he led the team for medal scores in every match. Although having a losing season, the team maintained high spirits and had many good times together including the fishing trips to lakeview. Graduating seniors are Dennis Berube, Steve Ciampa, Steve Doyle, Mike Topel.

VOLLEYBALL

The 1980 Bishop Fenwick volleyball team began its fourth season with several changes. The team acquired two new coaches, Mr. Ed Henry for varsity, and Mr. Bo Tierny for junior varsity. Taking into consideration that there were only four returning varsity players both coaches put a superb effort. Among those assisting Mr. Henry and Mr. Tierny were tri-captains, Julie Dillon, Anne McShane, and Paula Arsenault; also members of the varsity squad were Ellen Connors, Carlene Gauthier, Kathy McNiff, MaryJane Potorski, Jane LeBlanc, Sharon Murtagh, Janet Kelly, Lisa McLaughlin, and Gretchen McCaffery. Although the teams' record of 4-12 is not impressive, there was much time and effort put into getting adjusted to many new faces and moves. Even though practice began weeks before the official start of the season, the team rarely had lady luck on their side of the net. As the season progressed, although victories were few, team morale was kept high by encouragement and support of the faculty, students, and new coaches.

THE PLAY

The lights in the Fenwick auditorium click on at just a little before six p.m. Little by little people begin to assemble. Some are running up from locker rooms with heads still wet from post-practice showers. Some have suppers from "Burger King" or a temporary filler from "Treadwell's" in tow. Other adult types might be toting a brief case or an armload of correctable materials. The activity begins slowly . . . A broom is pushed across stage, a newly painted piece of scenery put in place for approval, a round piece of plywood on casters is examined. Different color stage lights are raised and lowered.

The noises also begin . . . A familiar chorus of piano music, a vocal warm-up, or shouts of "chassee" or "step ball change" to dancers. A paper cup is directed to its proper receptacle . . . Then finally a familiar baritone voice begins the activity . . . "All right everybody, down front, please." With that, rehearsal or (as we call it) "play practice" begins once again.

"The play" has become a vibrant and involving part of the life experience within the Fenwick walls. Perhaps no one activity at school brings together so many members of different classes and groups.

CAROUSEL

"The play" is our own term for what is in reality a full scale professionally directed, orchestrated, and choreographed Broadway Musical Comedy. The last two productions have been directed by Mr. Robert Sousa of the English Department. This year Mr. Sousa's choice was the famed classic "Carousel".

Work with principle actors began in January right after mid-year exams. The dedication and expertise of Mr. Sousa and the talent and hard work of a beautifully chosen cast made for much well earned applause during the weekend of April 10, 1981!

"When I Marry Mr. Snow" Eileen Cosgrove as Carrie Pippridge with girls' chorus.

"If I Loved You" Susan Harmeling as Julie Jordan, Tom Silva as Billie Bigelow.

"When the Children Are Asleep" Chuck Doyle as Mr. Snow with intended Miss Pippridge (Eileen Cosgrove).

"Commom Woman" Joseph Casey as Jigger with "common" Carousel owner Barbara Isler.

The final moments of "Carousel" include the full chorus rendition of the classic "You'll Never Walk Alone." Perhaps no song better tells just what "the play" or Bishop Fenwick High School is all about.

When you walk through a storm, keep your chin up high
And don't be afraid of the night.
At the end of the storm there's a golden sky
And the sweet silver song of a lark.
Walk on through the wind, walk on through the rain,
Though your dreams be tossed and blown.
Walk on Walk on with hope in your heart
And you'll never walk alone.
You'll never walk alone.

"June is bustin' out all over" Ann Marie Ouellette as Nettie Fowler.

Robert Cody as Mr. Baskin with Terrence Joyce as Policeman.

*Think in terms of bridges burned
Think of seasons that must end
See the rivers rise and fall
They will rise and fall again
Everything must have an end
Like an ocean to a shore
Like a river to a stream
Like a river to a stream
It's the famous final scene
And how you tried to make it work
Did you really think it could
How you tried to make it last Did you really think it would Like a guest who stayed too long
Now it's finally time to leave
Yes, it's finally time to leave
Take it calmly and serene
It's the famous final scene
It's been coming on so long
You were just the last to know It's been a long time since you've smiled*

*Seems like oh so long ago
Now the stage has all been set
And the nights are growing cold
Soon the winter will be here
And there's no one warm to hold
Now the lines have all been read
And you knew them all by heart
Now you move toward the door
Here it comes the hardest part
Try the handle of the road
Feeling different feeling strange
This can never be arranged
As the light fades from the screen
From the famous final scene*

SENIORS

As we close the door to our years here at Fenwick, we do so with sadness and apprehension. Saying goodbye to old friends and familiar places is not easy. Looking to the future, which now seems clouded by a fog of uncertainty, is at times frightening. Yet as we walk away from our days here at Fenwick we take with us memories, knowledge, and friendships that will never die.

In four short years we have learned enormous amounts of math and English. Our wealth of knowledge concerning history and the chemical compounds that make up the earth is staggering. Somehow we have gained an education, some with ease, some not so easily. However there is one startling fact, every member of the class of 1981 has managed to learn. We all now know what spirit, unity, and the true meaning of friendship is. Through our years as students at Fenwick, we have come to know what it is like to have a second family, in our coaches, teachers, counselors and friends.

As we prepare for our departure into another world apart from the security of our own families and those we have been a part of here at Fenwick, we can feel comforted by the thought that no matter where we go, or what we do, the love support and unity of a family never dies, the members just scatter, and memories just fall into the recesses of our minds willing to be recalled when we need them.

Each year, during the colorful Fall season, a Fenwick Tradition of warmth and welcoming takes place — the Senior-Freshman Buddy Mass. This event displays the meaning of Fenwick and sets us aside from public high schools. The upperclassmen here at Fenwick do not exploit the Freshmen, instead, we as mature and responsible(?) Seniors share our knowledge and experience with the new members of our community. Together, we celebrate the mass, and indulge in an epicurean delight of hamburgers and hot dogs. It is a fulfilling and enjoyable day for all.

DO YOU REMEMBER?

Waiting outside the foyer on the first day of freshman year?
Walking to Treadwell's in the freezing cold to get ice cream?
Going to the Garden to play in the state hockey tournament?
The oriental dinners in Mr. K's Asian-African classes?

Operation Charlie

On December 18th, 1980 the Senior Class joined together for the annual Christmas event Operation Charlie. It was a time to offer holiday spirit to a group of beautiful children awaiting with opened hearts. Upon arrival at St. Charles Orphanage the Seniors and children quickly became good friends. Soon the long anticipated moment had come, Santa Claus arrived with a bundle of toys. There were matchboxes and Barbie dolls, but out of all the presents received none could be so special as the one the Seniors gave to the orphans; the gift of love.

Nan Cormier

To fulfill the dreams of one's youth; that is the best that can happen to a man. No worldly success can take the place of that.

SENIOR RETREAT

Last winter forty seniors had the privilege of attending the annual two-day retreat at The House of Loretto in Ipswich. The retreat was expertly run by four members of the Fenwick faculty: Father Dick Messina, Sr. Catherine Fleming, Mr. Jaworski, and Mr. Farley. Through their guidance and thought provoking inspiration, the retreat proved to be truly a unique life experience which will long be remembered.

A retreat is literally a withdrawing from any place; a state of privacy or seclusion; a refuge. The senior retreat was precisely this, and much more. It was a time of self-examination through which we gained a better knowledge of personal values, future goals, and current actions. It was a time for discussion and for sharing thoughts and experiences by which we became more personally acquainted with each other. Finally, the retreat provided a time for quiet prayer allowing us to become more closely united with God.

AND THE NOMINEES ARE . . .

The setting is the luxurious and grand Hawthorne Hotel located in beautiful historic downtown Salem, and the event is the annual superlative awards given each year from the prestigious Bishop Fenwick High School Class of 1981.

The audience is held in suspense through the gourmet meal of chicken and are anxious for the ceremony hosted by comedian Fr. Richard Messina to begin. The categories are unique ranging from best figure to most spiritual to best parties and class flirt, what happened — no nominees or winners — was it fixed? Or do they go to the whole class? And now here they are, what you have all been waiting for.

AND THE WINNER IS . . .

CLAMBAKE

The clambake was one of the most enjoyable experiences of our Senior week. Held on the sea shore of Crane's Beach in Ipswich, the first event of the day was the Senior's last liturgy said by Father Dick. Soon Woodman's of Essex announced the clams were hot and steaming and the graduates chowed down. Hopefully this great time shared by the Class of 1981 will become graduation tradition.

Commencement Exercises Class of 1981

You will stand many times at a crossroad in life
just as you're standing now,
And no one can tell you which way to go ...
or what you should do ... or how.

Yours is the choice ...
may you follow your dreams and believe in yourself
all the way —

As you journey along with your eyes on the stars and with hope in your heart day by day.

Katherine Keller

To The Class of 1981

Every day brings new life every moment brings new hope do not be afraid to enjoy what is beautiful or to believe in the world even though it has sometimes disappointed you most of all, believe in yourself believe that your life makes a difference in this world of many people believe that all your experiences have a purpose even the bad ones and those that cause pain believe that you can turn a dark moment into a sunfilled day and you will do it.

Believe in people they too are often misunderstood just like you many times they only need a friend who cares enough to make them laugh be that friend.

Do not waste life its' moments are special feel only good things speak only words of love listen to people of peace.

Believe that you are good and you will become good believe that others are good and you will help them become good believe that life is good and you will have a good life.
Give a special gift to the world
give yourself.

Guy Garon, Hampton Falls, N H

There is a season for everything, a time for every occupation under heaven

A time to give birth

A time to die

A time to plant

A time for uprooting what has been planted.

A time for healing

A time for building

A time for tears,

A time for laughter,

A time for mourning,

A time for dancing,

A time for embracing,

A time for searching,

A time for loving

A time for peace

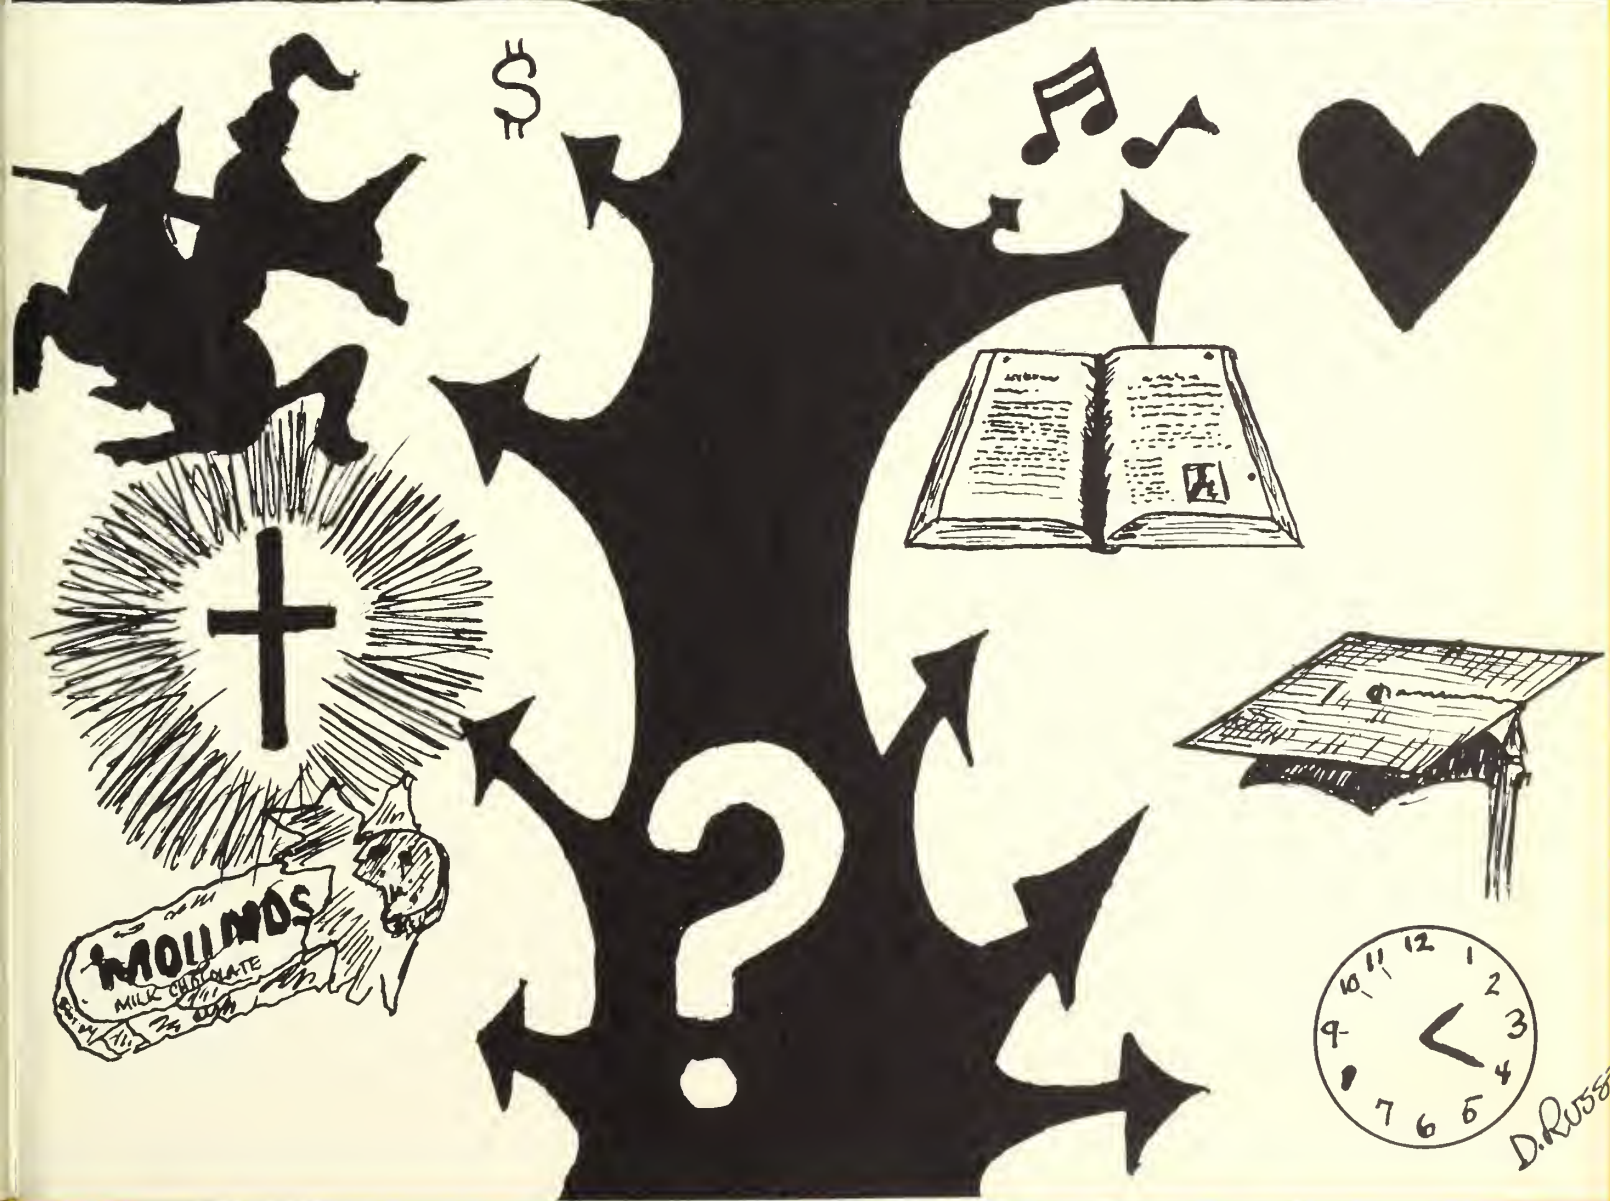

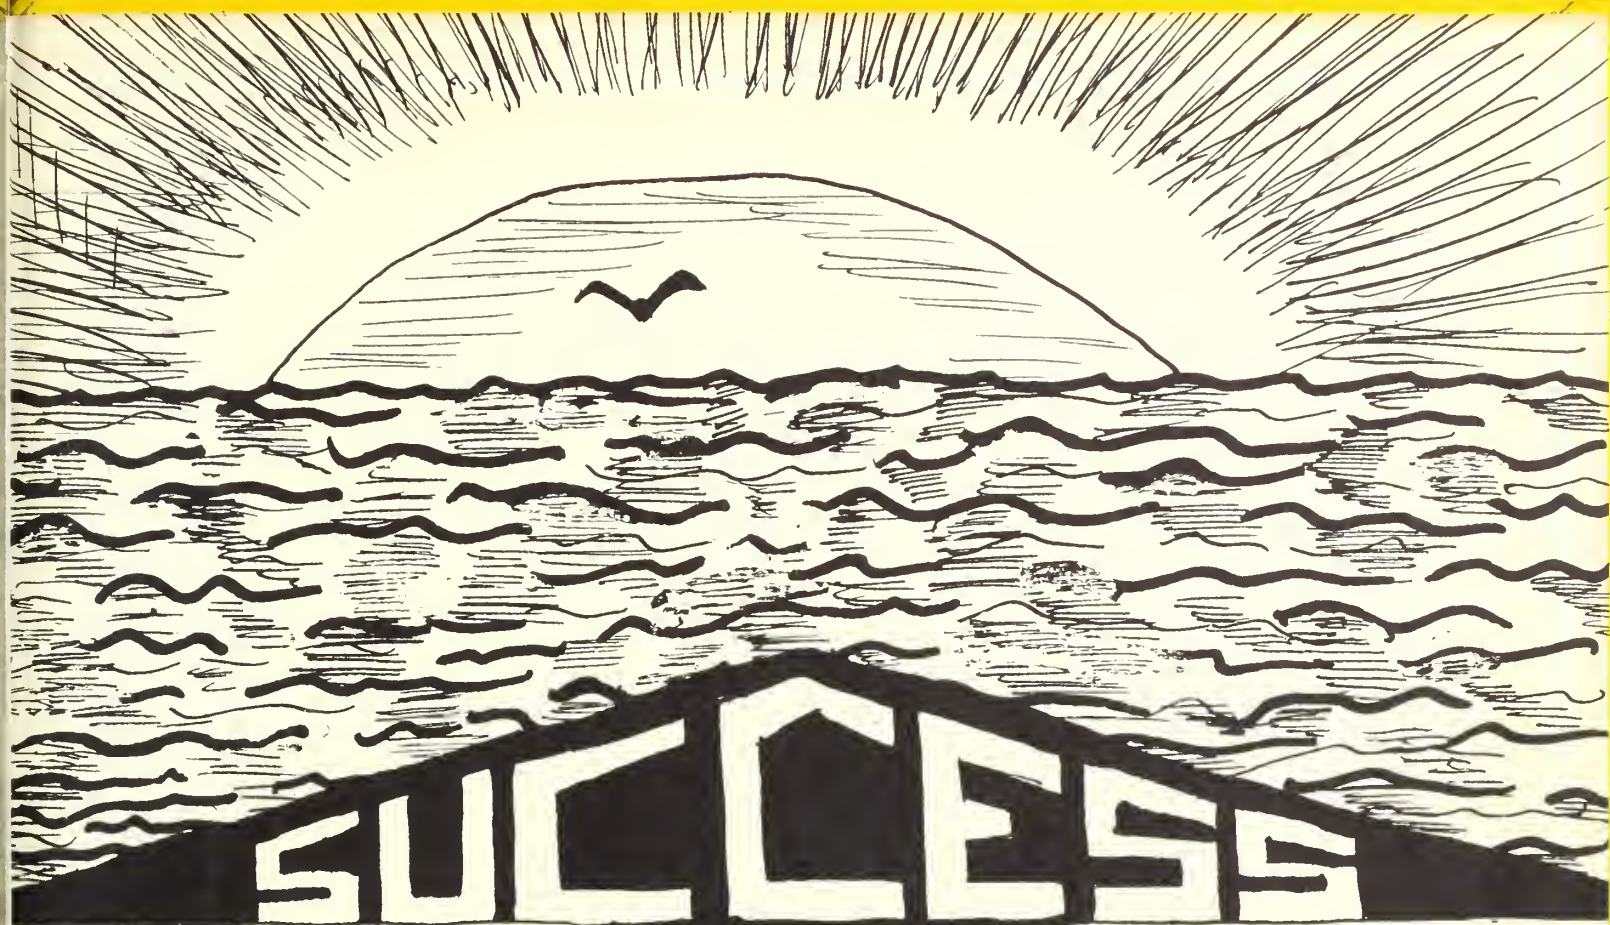

What does a man gain for the efforts that he makes?

I contemplate the task that God gives us to labor at.

All that we do is suited for its time.

Although we are permitted to consider time in its wholeness, we cannot comprehend the work of God from beginning to end.

ECCLESIASTES 3:1-11

D. Ross
